
Circulating Sub

The Circulating Sub, normally run above a down-hole motor, is designed to provide a means of circulation to the annulus upon activation. This tool utilizes a drop ball for actuation.

Features, Advantages and Benefits

- Saves wear on motor
- Circulating Path

